

Society development workshops

Semester 1: Round 1

This year we are hosting a range of complimentary development workshops for all our society committee members. The aim here is to provide you with bespoke support depending on your society category and committee role.

You will be able to book your spot in these workshops through YourSU's website once you have been granted admin access (Give your coordinator a poke once you complete your online training).

Key:

Mandatory: If your society category or committee role is prescribed in this section, please make sure you reserve your seat at the earliest. This workshop is crucial for your society or role to be successful.

Recommended: This training will improve the quality of your activities for this academic year. Discuss within your committee and decide which member will be in attendance.

Any relevant badges linked to the workshop will be listed.

Tuesday 20.09.2022

05:30pm - 7pm

Location:

Room 1.24

The Hub

Sexual Misconduct Awareness Workshop

Your Students' Union has been working with consultants Chris and Dan Griffin to design a workshop for student leaders on tackling sexual misconduct.

This session is aimed at students who are leading student groups and covers topics such as consent, healthy relationships, behavioural change and being an active bystander. This workshop is designed to increase the awareness of students on these topics so they can share learning, challenge and learn how to best support the students that are part of their groups.

This workshop also complements our I Heart Consent Training and University Active-Bystander training.

Chris and Dan Griffin:

'We welcome the opportunity to work alongside Your Students' Union staff, students, and student leaders. We aim to explore and promote healthy values and attitudes in the context of relationship behaviours. We also aim to explore and develop knowledge of effective responses and management of disclosures of sexual violence.'
